GUIDE TO WALL & FLOOR TILES

All our floor tiles are sourced from around Europe and therefore are all graded slightly different depending on the factory. Please see the description next to the tile to see whether or not the tile is suitable for your application. Please be aware that the tiles resistance is not only influenced by these descriptions but also by where it is laid. For example an area that is subjected to a lot of gravel or grit will deteriorate the tile quicker over time than a clean environment.

Sizes of tiles can vary from each batch, therefore please be careful if mixing colour or ranges even though they might be listed as the same size.

Some of our floor tiles are tested by the manufacturers for slip resistance, you will see a slip rating from R9 - R13. However we have decided to list any tiles that have been tested for the DIN51130 ramp test which is what most European manufacturers use.

We recommend the use of Lithofin cleaning products and sealers for all our natural products.

To determine whether a tile is suitable for exterior use depends on how much water it absorbs. As a general rule Glazed Porcelain and Through Bodied Porcelain are suitable. However please ask for advice on technical specification.

Please note all floor tiles can be used on walls providing substrate is suitable for the weight of the tile including the adhesive. Please ask for advice on technical specification.

All tiles can be prone to bowing. This is caused in the firing process and is unavoidable. All our tiles are produced to comply with European standards and tolerances. Ensure that you are happy with the finish before laying commences especially if you are planning to lay the tiles in a brick style.

Please speak to us for guidance on specification and technical details.

* Slip resistance needs to be considered for public areas.
